

ABSTRACT

The present inventors discovered that stable and highly concentrated IgM solutions can be prepared by using, as an additive, a compound comprising a polyvalent cationic ion, such as 5 magnesium chloride or arginine hydrochloride, to suppress IgM aggregation in solutions.